

Slumgullion

From Jordan Straker

I'm not exactly a big eater and most of my favorite recipes belong to my fiancé, however, when I'm left to my own, I usually make my type of 'slumgullion' which is a combination of fried and seasoned hamburger, prepared Kraft dinner and a can of mushroom soup - mix it all together and bake in a casserole dish with a topping of grated cheese and Ritz crackers. Pasta, meat and soup all mixed in one! We, from the slums, loved it and each household had their own variation.
